

I am a deaf pastor and make calls through VRS. I do not support the ten seconds requirement, but rather support that VRS have nationally certified interpreters for the deaf. I would rather wait and get an interpreter who is certified. It is important that my calls be understood and said by qualified people. I would suggest that VRS not be fined for providing only certified interpreters rather follow the ten second requirement.